2010 ITU World Championship Qualifier

ENTRIES ARE NOW CLOSED DAMBUSTER TRIATHLON IS NOW FULL

The Dambuster Triathlon 2010 is now closed with all available 1000 places being filled. We have also had over 100 athletes contact us who like yourself were just too late in their application and are looking to secure a place via some other method.

We are sorry that you were unable to secure a place prior to the event filling.

Reserve / Waiting List

We do not have a reserve list for the event, since in our experience drop outs in the events are very low and it is rare that we are advised of these until much closer to the event by which time over 80% of the applicants of the reserve lists that we have produced in the past have made other arrangements and select not to take up places when offered to them.

If we have withdrawals what will happen?

Should we find that there are a number of drop outs prior to the closing date for the Vitruvian we will make an announcement in our Pacesetter Newsletter and would advise all athletes wishing to keep informed of this are registered on the website and follow us on Twitter offer these slots on a strictly first come first served basis following the announcement.

Once again I am sorry we were unable to assist in getting you a place but we hope to see you racing at the Dambuster next season.

Yours in sport
